COACHING FOR EMERGING LEADERS

As a professional coach, I work with emerging leaders to develop solutions to workplace challenges. Depending on what the client needs and wants, my role can evolve into that of consultant, advisor, or mentor to help the individual along their path of leadership development. (This is offered as a subscribed service, versus a seminar or single session.)

My Values

- Integrity – do the right thing, the right way, the first time, for the right reason
- Care – show respect for everyone's feelings, opinions, and individual differences
- Engagement – act in ways that are dynamic, charismatic and inspiring
- Communication – provide feedback that is positive, constructive, objective, and practical
- Excellence – champion high standards, and challenge others to do the same
